

Joseph and Penina Popack

Member of the Board of Trustees
New York Medical College

Joseph Popack is the founder and principal of a New York real estate firm, the founder of one of New York's leading energy suppliers and a software development company. For the last six years, Mr. Popack has served on the Board of Trustees of New York

Medical College. There, as a member of the Real Estate Committee, he has used his extensive knowledge, gained over five decades in the real estate business, to ensure maintenance of the school's facilities while reducing any waste of the school's financial resources.

Among the numerous other organizations on whose boards Mr. Popack serves are the National Committee for the Furtherance of Jewish Education, and Chabad on Campus International, which provides services for Jewish youths and has nearly three hundred branches worldwide. He is also chairman of the board of Tzivos Hashem, parent company of the Jewish Children's Museum in Brooklyn. Penina Popack, Joseph's wife, shares his commitment to the greater community, serving as a trustee of the Village of Lawrence, New York, and is the immediate past president of the Lawrence Civic Association.

Together, Joseph and Penina are involved in extensive philanthropic activities in New York and Israel. They have been instrumental in building schools, day care centers, soup kitchens, food banks, and the largest nonprofit supermarket in Israel. Mr. and Mrs. Popack are also restoring desecrated Jewish cemeteries in Europe. Joseph and Penina are proud parents to a large family. They have devoted their lives to their family and Jewish, humanitarian and community causes.
